Alec Cuccia

2101 Beekman Place #4D, Brooklyn, NY 11225
ajcuccia@gmail.com • +1 917.499.3889
aleccuccia.com • linkedin • github

Core Technologies
JavaScript, TypeScript, React.js, Redux, Node.js, PostgreSQL, Git, GitHub, Redis, HTML5, CSS3

Work History
Full Stack Engineer — Clyde, NYC   May 2020–Present
Junior Full Stack Engineer — Clyde, NYC   January 2019–April 2020

- Write and maintain front end and back end code across numerous microservices.
- Part of a two-person team that built the company's consumer-facing website in TypeScript, React.js, and Redux.
- Designed and built the company's analytics platform alongside the head of Data Science, utilizing Segment and Amazon Redshift to track and store customer purchases.
- Spearheaded the creation of an internal library of plug-and-play React components, leveraging React Hooks to reduce the overhead of each component.
- Created a Javascript-based Excel export feature to quickly pull filtered data from the database into Excel files for use by the Sales team.

Code Coach / Moderator — Codecademy, Remote   September 2018–December 2018

- Taught vanilla JavaScript and React/Redux concepts to students of various coding levels.
- Debugged student code on-the-fly through pair-programming sessions with learners.
- Moderated multiple online cohorts of 50+ students, receiving glowing reviews from each class.

Lead Academic Developer — EduAr, Inc., NYC   August 2016–March 2018

- Developed a special-needs English Language Arts curriculum for grades one through six.
- Wrote and edited hundreds of worksheets and textbooks for special needs students.
- Oversaw grammaticality and quality control across all product lines.

Education
App Academy   March 2018–June 2018
Full-stack, 1000-hour web-development course with an acceptance rate under 3%

New York University, The Gallatin School of Individualized Study   Sept. 2009–Jan. 2013
Bachelor of the Arts in Independent Studies, English Writing (3.549 GPA)

Hobbies
Reading, baking, walking in the park, playing video games, half-heartedly studying Spanish